"Not As Many Cadillacs As Expected," Says New Zealand Exchange Student

Robin Kirk, exchange student pictured above, now a senior at E. C. Glass High School, Lynchburg, told Jr. Woman's Club members and their guests, the Woman's Club of Appomattox, last week that he didn't see as many Cadillacs as he expected to see in the U. S. He said that "Hollywood gives us (in New Zealand) a different version" of American life than he finds in Virginia. "Basically, we'er the same," he added, though in politics, New Zealand is a socialistic government, with government owned railroads, bus lines, hospitals, and medical care. About social life—New Zealand teenagers usually do not "make dates" until after high school, he said. Concerning exchange students, he said. "We all have the same aim . . . to foster friendship among nations. The more people travel, the more they will understand each other."

Lamp Workshop Set For March

There will be new lamps for old, for home decorators throughout Appomattox county if they visit the Lamp Workshop now being planned by Home Demonstration clubs for Tuesday, March 26.

Bring vases, bottles, oil lamps, etc. to the Appomattox Elementary School, March 26. A modern day "Aladdin" will be there, says Miss Peggy Berger, H. D. agent, to help you transform those old lamps to real conversation pieces for home or office.

Skating Rink Becomes Dress Factory; Ready By March

L. E. Anderson, Appomattox, has announced the purchase of a skating rink building near Farmville. He expects to move for present operations of the Farmville Dress Company from a downtown Farmville location to the skating rink site, just east of Farmville on Route 460.

The new factory location is a 60' by 160' one - story building, which Anderson says will be ideal for his plant operation. He has been processing dresses in the Taylor Building, Farmville, since he purchased the business in January, 1960.

Work has already begun on a central heating system, new electrical wiring, and general conversion of the building to its new use.

John C. Mitchell, manager of the Farmville Dress Company, said the company now has 60 operators, floor and machine, and is operating at top capacity. Anderson and Mitchell both agreed that the outlook is for a busy year, and they hope to increase the number of workers.

The Farmville plant contracts dressed for the Stax Segal Company, in Newark, N. J.

Jaycees Say Thanks

President "Billy" Chenault of the Appomattox Jaycees said that a "good turnout of people from town" despite the weather, brought about a good "Pancake Day" for the club on Saturday. "We appreciate your support!" he said Monday, "and we hope everyone had fun and enough to eat."

Candidates Announce For Primary

1963 Feed Grain Program

Growers of corn, grain sorghum, and barley now may sign up to take part in the 1963 Feed Grain Program J. A. Martin, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilizat... a... ...ox County, announced today. The signup period will exend through March 22, 1963.

The voluntary daversion program for these three feed grains is generally the same as last year. Of the few provisions different from the 1962 program, the principal one is that special price - support payments will be available on acreage grown on participating farms in addition to the regular price supports through loans and purchase agreements.

Another difference is that barley this year is included with corn and grain sorghum in one program whereas barley was in a separate prearm last year.

Here are highlights of the 1963 Feed Grain Program as set forth by Chairman Martin:

Farms with a total feed grain base of 25 acres or less may divert the entire base acreage (1959-60 average acreag) as adjusted. The payment rate for such farms will be 50 per cent of the county support rate on the normal production of the diverted acres. The county support rates reflect national average support prices of $1.25 per bushel for corn, $2.00 per hundredweight for grain sorghum, and 96 cents per bushel for barley. Farmers who divert the entire base may plant no 1963 feed grain acreage.

On farms that do not divert the entire base acreage payment on the first 20 per cent reduction which is the minimum diversion will be 20 per cent of the county support rate on the normal production of the diverted acres. Any diversion above the minimum will earn payment at 50 per cent of the county support rate. The maximum diversion is 40 per cent of the base acreage or 25 acres, whichever is larger.

Feed grain crops on participating farms will be eligible for price supports will reflect national average rates of $1.07 per bushel for corn, $1.71 per hundredweight for grain sorghum, and 81 cents per bushel for barley. There will be no price support on these grains to producers not participating in the feed grain program.

In addition to regular price support, there will be special price - support payments on the normal production of acreage grown on participating farms, regardless of the use made of the grain or whether it is already under loan. These payments will be 18 cents per bushel for corn, 29 cents per hundredweight for grain sorghum, and 14 cents per bushel for barley.

To receive diversion payments and price support in 1963 a farmer who has signed to participate must divert an acreage at least equal to the total intentions shown in his agreement.

Advance paymenis of approximately half the total payment again will be available at the time of the signup, Chairman Martin explained. Final diversion payments and special price-support payments will be made after compliance has been determined.

He urged farmers to get in touch with the ASCS county office for further details on how the 1963 Feed Grain Program may affect their own farm operations.

Piedmont Heart Assoc. Announce Tour On Friday

Tours for Heart Research Day, Friday, February 8, at the Medical College of Virginia were being filled rapidly early in the week, Dr. Julian R. Beckwith, M.D. of Charlottesville, President of the Heart Association, announced Tuesday.

Visitors to the heart research laboratories to be open for these tours will have an opportunity to see ways in which many of their Heart Fund dollars are being spent.

Since the Heart Association's modest beginning in Virginia twelve years ago, it has allocated a total of $761,000 to studies in the heart and blood vessel diseases.

ACSC Manager Speak Tonight At Pamplin

J. Newton Jennings, manager of the ACSC office for Appomattox County, will discuss the agricultural conservation program as it applies to the County at the scheduled meeting Thursday evening at the Pamplin Elementary School. He will discuss the program for farmers and answer questions as how farmers may participate in the various phases of the program.

5 Out Of Six Town Council May Run

With the exception of Ivey Holland, chairman of the Finance Committee, there are strong indications that five out of the six Town Councilmen of Appomattox will seek re - election.

Holland last week stated emphatically that he will not seek election again. The others: Mrs. Calvin Robinson, Burke Grill, Randolph Gilbert, Henry Pack, and Lewis McDearmon, are either uncommitted at this time, or have stated that they are "considering running again."

Mayor Lawson

Dr. S. R. Lawson, town mayor, says that a number of people have asked him to run again, and that he is "seriously considering it."

Lt. Bingham Honored By State Police

Lieutenant J. A. Bingham, Appomattox native and long-time resident of the county, received a reproduction of his old badge during special ceremonies in Richmond on Friday, Feb. 1.

Lt. Bingham is the last known surviving member of the seven-man force that formed the beginnings of the Department of State Police in Virginia.

Bingham was made a lieutenant in 1930 when the state police were still under the Division of Motor Vehicle. He spent his last 13 years on the force as a plain clothes investigator, and retired in 1953.

Colonel C. W. Woodson, Jr., superintendent of State Police, said Friday that Bingham was one of the best interrogators in the department.

The colonel said Bingham's unique manner could extract the truth from suspects long before the lie detector was invented.

J. A. Bingham is the father of Floyd E. Bingham, Appomattox; Mrs. Byron Cole, Appomattox; Mrs. Virginia Harvey, Richmond, and Mrs. Majorie Bailey, Danville.

You Name It! They Need It

Flash lights, hot water bottles, a shower curtain or a door mat! The Junior Woman's Club of Appomattox will take any of these items or dozens of others to send to Camp Easter Seal, the summer treatment center for crippled and handicapped children of Virginia. Mrs. Ben Marshall, 352-2963, is collection chairman.

Cancer Council To Meet Monday

The Cancer Council of Appomattox County will meet Monday to hear Wm. W. Manley, Field Representative for the Virginia Division, American Cancer Society.

All interested persons are invited to meet at the Appomattox High School library at 8 p.m.

Transco Names New Directors

Appointment of two new directors of Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. was announced today by E. Clyde McGraw, president of the company.

R. D. Ricketts, president of Fish International Constructors, Inc., Houston, and H. A. Eddins, president of Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, Tulsa, were named to the board of Transcontinental at a directors' meeting in New York.

Dental Clinic Begins In March

As a part of the nationwide observance of National Dental Health week Mrs. W. E. Jamerson has announced that 30 to 35 children of this county will begin dental treatment the first week of March.

This is the yearly Dental Clinic sponsored by the Jr. Woman's Club. Drs. C. R. Jones and S. R. Lawson give a part of their "free afternoon" to render dental services for nominal fees.

Contract Signed For New Bank At Pamplin

J. W. E. Jamerson, in behalf of J. E. Jamerson and Sons, building contractors of Appomattox, signed a contract Monday afternoon with First National Bank of Farmville to erect a new banking facility at Pamplin.

First National gave the price as $50,000 for the building and facilities.

The bank will offer complete banking services including a night depository, Jamerson said. It will be a one - floor masonry building with brick veneer and walnut paneling in the interior.

Location of the new branch will be with mnPal pjwnton will be within Pamplin town limits, on the eastern side of the town on Route 460.

W. E. Jamerson said Monday night that work will begin immediately, and that "early summer" has been set for a target date to complete the building.

John C. Cole Plans To File For Primary

F. L. Murphy, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors for the past 13 years announced Friday that he will not seek re - election. The other two supervisors, O. W. Martin, Jr., and Richard Webb have stated that they will seek office in the primary this year. "I am not going to run this time on age and health," Mr. Murphy said. "Please thank the people for their support."

Chairman Murphy has served continuously as chairman of the three - man board since his first election to office. He serves the Southside District; O. W. Martin, Jr., the Stonewall District; and Richard M. Webb, the Clover Hill District.

Cole Announces

John C. Cole, Dairyman, and resident of the Southside District, announced Tuesday that he will file petitions in April and plans to run for the Supervisor's position.

Filing Date

Filing date for office seekers in county posts is April 16. Each candidate for a place on the Democratic primary ballot on July 9, must pay a filing fee to the county Democratic Committee and must submit a petition or petitions bearing at least 50 names of qualified voters.

Other Offices Open

Every county office is up before the voters except the Clerk of Court who is elected for an eight year term. The present officeholders, in addition to the supervisors, are Sheriff Walter Comer, Commissioner of Revenue John Curtis Caldwell, Commonwealth Attorney George Abell, and County Treasurer Garland Pinkard, have indicated that they will run again.

Possible Opposition

There are strong indications that C. D. Stanley, of the State Police, may file in April to run against Sheriff Conner. Stanley has been on the retirement from the State Police force, admitted his interest in the upcoming elections, but stated that his present duties as law enforcement officer prevent him from making any announcement at this time.

Julian Wingfield, county chairman of the Republican party, stated Saturday that he has no announcement to make immediately. He indicated that a county meeting of Republicans would take place in the near future.

F. L. MURPHY
Not To Seek Re-election

3,874 Labels

So many dog labels (YETS) came in during the past year to the labels' chairman of the Jr. Woman's Club, Mrs. Frances Lewis, that she has requested another chairman to take over!

Miss Jackie Cobb is new Dog Food Label chairman for the Appomatox club. Mrs. Lewis still has charge of stamps for Veterans.

Senator Moses Dr. Pennington Will Run Again

State Senator Charles T. Moses of Appomattox, representing the 11th District; Dr. William A. Pennington of Buckingham, Delegate from Buckingham, Appomattox and Cumberland counties, plan to run again for their respective offices, according to latest reports.

Senator Moses, president pro tem of the Virginia Senate, and a senator since 1936, represents the 11th district which includes Appomattox, Buckingham, Cumberland, Powhatan, Amherst, Nelson, and Amelia counties.

He said on Monday that he will definitely run again, and that he appreciates past and present support from the people of the 11th district.

Dr. Pennington, in a published interview, said "I expect to run. I don't know what will happen but so far I don't have any opposition." Pennington has served in two sessions of the General Assembly. He said he also probably would make his formal announcement at his district Democratic Committee meeting, the date for which has no been set.
